2020-2021 Annual Giving

Echo Horizon School gratefully acknowledges the generous contributions made by our community. Our success is rooted in the attributes and achievements of our students as well as the leadership and direction of our faculty and staff. It is made possible, however, by our strong community of families and supporters. Our sincerest thanks to those listed below for their caring and commitment to making our school their philanthropic priority.

Listening to the sixth-grade graduation speeches was the ultimate testament to the excellence of our Upper Elementary teachers. In their speeches, students thanked teachers for choosing rigorous and interesting texts, for providing emotional support and care, for designing hands-on science experiments, and for ensuring that they were invested in school (even online)—all without prompting. Last year, the Upper Elementary team remained fully committed to ensuring that each student was seen, known, supported, and challenged both online and in person. Their unwavering support and love for their students inspired me and our families. Our sixth graders graduated confident that they were ready to tackle the academic and social challenges of middle school, and grounded in all they learned here at EHS.

“During these unprecedented two years of our daughter’s enrollment at Echo Horizon, our family found a touchstone in the school administration. I can’t count the number of times during early COVID-19 that I thought or even said out loud to my partner, Well, she’s doing it so I better get my act together and follow her example. Our conversations via Zoom and over the phone were so real. She told us her struggles, and helped us work through the challenges of online school for a Kindergartner and parenting in the time of COVID-19. She said out loud, It’s ok to not do it all. She remembered our conversations and always followed up. Always. When that Kindergartner turned into a first grader, who with all her COVID-19 independence wanted to challenge the world, she was right there. She had a plan and rallied a team to guide our daughter back into in-person learning. During this crazy time we could not have found a stronger, more admirable or compassionate touchstone than Jennie Willens. We are so grateful.

“Jennifer Mascolo is our daughter Ruby’s Echo Center Kindergarten teacher. She was also Ruby’s Echo Center teacher for Pre-K. Mrs. Mascolo has been a godsend to our family. Typically we may never have seen how much Mrs. Mascolo does for Ruby, but with virtual learning this last year we got a wonderful sneak peek. Every school morning Mrs. Mascolo greets Ruby with a hearty good morning, right before their daily listening checks. Listening checks are a great way to start the day, easing Ruby into the school day with a bit of structure and always some laughs with the other Echo Center kids while making sure their listening devices are working properly. During their one-on-one check-ins after class, Ruby and Mrs. Mascolo would share stories about the week or themselves. Mrs. Mascolo has such a talent for nurturing Ruby’s interests in school and beyond with a great ability to recall many of Ruby’s jokes and current obsessions (like The Descendants and monkey bars). With the kids back in person, we have truly appreciated her consistent correspondence through email and Zoom to keep us updated on Ruby’s progress in school. Mrs. Mascolo has also been an invaluable resource during Ruby’s IEP meetings and evaluations, a chore made much easier with her help. Having Mrs. Mascolo as Ruby’s teacher these last two years has allowed Ruby to thrive despite the many challenges all the children have endured during this pandemic. Thanks for everything, Mrs. Mascolo.”

“Our family would like to thank all of the 5th grade teachers for being patient and compassionate during this last school year as we all navigated the uncertainty of each day. You all supported with helping to maintain consistency and calm while keeping the students engaged during a pretty chaotic year. Thank you for your professionalism throughout it all. It didn’t go unnoticed and we hope that you are able to take in some deep breaths and take care of yourself as we close this school year. We are profoundly grateful.”
